

Respect Life Society Bulletin – April 24, 2016

More about Physician Assisted Suicide from New Yorkers for Life - It sends the message that suicide is acceptable. New York State rightly spends millions of dollars each year to prevent suicides with anti-bullying campaigns in schools, awareness training in prisons, toll-free hotlines and extra safety precautions on bridges. It makes no sense to recognize suicide as a statewide critical public health concern while simultaneously promoting it as “dignified and humane” for certain populations.
